

The 1812 Gallia County Tax Duplicate can be found in the office of the Gallia County Historical/Genealogical Society.

The first page reads "Duplicate of the County Tax assessed in the County of Gallia and State of Ohio for the year A.D. 1812."

Rate of taxation	On each stud horse, the rate he stands at the season
	On each horse creature	30 cents
	On neat cattle	10 cents each
	On all other property	one half of one per cent

Note that in 1812 the townships are not as they are today. Those found are Addison, Cheshire, Gallipolis, Green, Huntington, Letart, Madison, Ohio, Raccoon, Rutland, Saline, Salisbury, Union, and Wilkesville. Addison, Cheshire, Gallipolis, Green, Huntington, Ohio, and Raccoon are still in Gallia County. Letart, Rutland, and Salisbury are in Meigs County. Madison is in Jackson County. Union is in Lawrence County. Wilkesville is in Vinton County. Saline is believed to have included some of the later residents of Green and surrounding townships in Gallia County.

Missing from Gallia County are the present day Clay, Greenfield, Guyan, Harrison, Morgan, Perry, Springfield, and Walnut. Check neighboring townships for names of someone you think lived here.

Due to the fact that this was chattel property, the owner would actually have lived in Gallia County. As the tax was really for the year 1811, the owner would have resided here in that year.

Names have been read as accurately as possible.
